

When candidates file to run for office, they have a choice in how they qualify for that office. They can qualify by simply paying a fee from their campaign account, or they can go directly to the voters and seek their permission through the petition process. I have chosen to qualify for the State Senate by collecting petitions directly from the voters. Any registered voter in Florida, regardless of party affiliation, can sign.

Please help me qualify for the 2016 ballot by filling out and signing the petition below.
